Edgetech

A Quanex Building Products Company

Edgetech Europe GmbH is pleased to announce that it will, once again, be exhibiting its products at Vitrum in Hall 7, Stand P 10, from 3-6 October. Attracting about 20,000 visitors across the four days of the bi-annual show, this exhibition for every sector of the glass industry is particularly relevant for Edgetech to demonstrate the production and thermal efficiencies of its Warm Edge range of spacer products.

Joachim Stoss, managing director with responsibility for Edgetech in Europe, explains: "Edgetech is a regular exhibitor at Vitrum because glass companies of all sizes, across all countries attend the show to see what's new and which different machinery or components can help their business today and in the future. Our stand is always busy for exactly this reason. Companies want to hear how such a small component can make such a big difference to the overall thermal performance of a window, as well as improve productivity in their factory – whether the spacer is applied with manual, semi-automated, or fully-automated machinery.

A number of our machinery partners will also be exhibiting at the show and will be able to offer more information about the options available.

Our extensive portfolio means we have a solution to keep customers ahead of the competition in every application, whether they need single seal, dual seal or triple seal systems for double, triple or even quadruple glazed units, with plenty of size and colour options across the range.

No Warm Edge spacer offers more possibilities in applications than Super Spacer®. It is not without reason that more than 25 years of experience have made us the innovation leader.

Visitors to Vitrum will also be able to talk to Edgetech's Warm Edge Technology experts about existing and new products that really will be the future of building, so we look forward to greeting visitors throughout the show."
